The inmate population in Canadian penitentiaries at midnight, March 31, 1926, amounted to 2,473 souls, an increase of 128 over the year 1925.

The average daily population was 2,396; of these, 1,037 were serving sentences of 5 years and upward; 144 of them were doing life terms; 257 were under 20 years of age; 1,087 were between the ages of 20 and 30 years.

The cost per capita per diem was $1.35.

The revenue returned to the Receiver-General amounted to $167,920.66.

The construction and remodelling programs have been prosecuted vigorously since last reported upon.

At Kingston Penitentiary, the new sewage disposal plant has been completed.

Work has been begun on the new female prison.

The boundary walls have been repointed. The old west gate, situate in the centre of the wall at a very dangerous point, has been removed, and the space occupied by it built in, so that there is now a continuous wall from northwest to southwest towers.

The interior of the prison yard has been wonderfully improved.

The refencing of the farm property has been vigorously prosecuted.

The remodelling of the old boiler house and binder twine factory, which will now be used for blacksmith and carpenter shops, is about completed; in fact, the greater portion of the institution buildings have been repaired, painted and renovated.

At St. Vincent de Paul Penitentiary, new entrance building, containing warden's and secretary's offices, guard room, armouries, waiting room, visitors' interview room and storage vaults, has been completed.

The new laundry, bathroom, changing room and inmates' barber shop, have been finished.

A new system of ducts for the housing of all water, heating and sewage pipes, together with all electric and telephone cables, has been constructed throughout the prison, and extended to the pump-house on the banks of the river de la Prairie.

A duct has been constructed toward new piggery. Entire remodelling of intake pipe, cribbing work to protect same, new chlorination plant, and laying of a large quantity of new water pipe, has been accomplished.

One thousand five hundred feet of duct have been built through rock excavation within the prison in connection with new sewage disposal.

The eastern and northern boundary walls of this institution are in a very bad condition, and will require to be reconstructed during the summer of 1927, if possible.

At Dorchester Penitentiary, excellent progress has been made in connection with the construction of the new warden's residence, and one other residence has been remodelled.

The new hospital has been completed and fully equipped. A number of visitors from foreign countries, who have inspected this hospital, pronounce it as in a class by itself as compared with all other prison hospitals they have seen.

The beautiful school-room and concert hall, large, well lighted and well ventilated, and which accommodates six classes each day at one and the same time without any interference one with the other, has also been completed, and is in daily use.

The interior of the east wing, which consisted of old unsanitary cells, has been torn out and is being replaced by an up-to-date kitchen, with basement, and large, well lighted and ventilated chapel overhead.

A great deal of necessary repairs to farm buildings and fences have been made. The herd of Shorthorn cattle, started in this institution some years ago, has proven an unqualified success.

At Manitoba Penitentiary, a very fine new horse stable has been built; also, a large and well equipped root house, new laundry, bath-room, changing room and barber shop have been completed.

Good progress has been made on new east wing, engineer's department, fire hall, pump house, officers' dwellings and implement shed, while the entire institution has been put in a wonderfully clean and most satisfactory condition.

New high-level water tank, to hold 60,000 gallons, has been erected. Soft water tank, blasted out of the solid rock, and holding over 100,000 gallons, has been built.

The coal storage vault has also been enlarged, and an implement shed erected over the top of the root house.

At British Columbia Penitentiary, the erection of the administration building and new kitchen and chapel has been begun.

New laundry, changing room, bath house, barber shop, etc., have been completed.

The construction of the new boundary wall is also being carried on satisfactorily.

At Saskatchewan Penitentiary, 2,395 feet of new boundary wall have been completed, also new southwest tower and gateway. Southeast tower is completed and foundation for a further portion of the boundary wall laid, 320 feet of which has been erected to 7 feet above the ground.

The laying of the 7-inch cast-iron water pipe a distance of 7,540 feet, to connect with city water system, was completed in December last. The work of laying this pipe was done entirely by inmates, under the supervision of the officers of the penitentiary. The excavation was from 9 to 11 feet deep. The trench was dug and the entire undertaking completed during winter weather, when the cold at times was intense. The water supply at this institution, which until then had been ample for all purposes, failed, owing to the drying up of the quicksand existing in the soil on which the place was built.

A tremendous amount of work was done in putting the finishing touches to other newly constructed buildings.

A very beautiful iron railing, 25 feet high on concrete base, has been built in front of the main entrance, which adds greatly to the safety and appearance of the place.

A coal-shed to house 500 tons of steam coal has been erected.

During the season of 1925 about 23,000 bushels of grain were grown on the penitentiary farm, as well as 8,990 bushels of potatoes; also a large quantity of hay and other fodder, as well as all the pork and vegetables required were supplied the institution.

Four hundred and twenty-five thousand bricks were manufactured. The inmates bring in the clay and sand and make the bricks. The wood to burn the kilns is also cut and brought to the prison by the inmates. The average number of bricks manufactured for the past ten years has been over half a million per year, all of which have gone into the new buildings erected at this institution.

All women sentenced to penitentiary in Canada are incarcerated in the female prison of Kingston Penitentiary. This department is very ably managed by the matron, Miss Robinson, and her assistants, Mrs. Allain and Miss Frizzell. Wonderful improvement has been made, and the female ward ranks high as compared with similar female institutions viewed elsewhere.

Religious missions have been held throughout the year, and wardens report wonderful good resulted therefrom.

Many of the Chaplains devote themselves wholeheartedly to their labours amongst the men of their congregations.

The schoolmasters have rendered excellent service, and the success of the various schools has been beyond expectations. Many of the inmates, who, on entering the penitentiary could neither read nor write, have passed either the entrance or matriculation examinations, and in some cases both. The schoolmaster whose heart is in his work, who understands men, who has a strong and bright personality, who is energetic and capable, is a great power for good in a penitentiary.

The libraries now contain hundreds of really excellent works, and here also the schoolmaster, who is likewise librarian, has been of great help to the inmates in assisting and directing them in what they should read.

A strict censorship is enforced on all reading matter entering the libraries, and though only high class books and magazines are subscribed for, it has been found necessary to delete over sixty magazine articles during the past two years. The following are a few of those removed before permitting the volumes in the library:—

- "Sensational Escapes."
- "Robbery and Murder as a Business."
- "Revenge"—(a purely fictitious story regarding the late ex-inmate Leo Rogers).
- "The Bandit of Hell's Bend."
- "Invisible Inks."
- "The Latest Developments in Bank Burglary."
- "Cipher Writing—Its Uses, etc."
- "Science in Prison Escapes."
- "Guns and Targets in Chicago's Crime War."
- "The Perfect Murder."
- "Fighting the Dope Menace."
- "Romance of Bootlegging."
- "Busting the Bad Money Business."
- "Bill Miner, Bandit."
- "The Inside of the Criminal Mind."
- "The Case against Capital Punishment."

- "The Return of the Bad Men."
- "The Criminals' Lawyer."
- "Rogues and Vagabonds."
- "Coddling Criminals."
- "Our Convict Slaves."
- "High Rollers of Crime."
- "Making of Boy Bandits."
- "Cursing Crime in the United States."
- "A Murderer Who Couldn't Say 'Not Guilty'."
- "Beating the Bandits."
- "Prison Life of Notorious Federal Convicts."
- "Samson Entices Delilah."

It is regretted that publication of literature such as the above should be permitted. The study of such articles would enable any intelligent amateur crook to become an adept in certain classes of crime.

Concerts have been given in each institution several times during the year.

The hospitals are admirably conducted and the health of the inmates well looked after. No fever or other like cases have been reported during the year.

The sanitation of the institutions is excellent notwithstanding that many of the inmates, on reception, are found to be suffering from foul diseases and vermin.

Treatment of insane inmates, some of whom are found to be insane on reception, continues to be a source of great trouble, as difficulty is experienced in some cases in having these unfortunates removed to provincial mental disease hospitals.

During the five years ended 1914 the average revenue from all penitentiaries amounted to $55,000.

The revenue for the past eight years has been as follows:—

|      |       |              |
|------|-------|--------------|
| 1919 | ..... | $138,618.04 |
| 1920 | ..... | 143,333.39   |
| 1921 | ..... | 162,709.32   |
| 1922 | ..... | 150,389.12   |
| 1923 | ..... | 140,153.32   |
| 1924 | ..... | 151,721.31   |
| 1925 | ..... | 168,328.91   |
| 1926 | ..... | 167,920.66   |

Only about one-tenth of the work that may be done in the penitentiaries is now furnished by the Government.

The following extracts from previous reports of the Superintendent of Penitentiaries are again respectfully submitted, with regard to work:—

Proper employment for the inmates of the Dominion penitentiaries has long been recognized by those in control as a dire necessity. To keep men in enforced idleness would not only be most inhuman, but in one institution in a foreign country where it was tried, over 13 per cent of the unfortunate inmates were driven insane in one year.

Lack of other employment frequently forces the wardens to establish "stone piles," and thus employ those for whom they have no other work. This industry, if such it can be called, is most undesirable, and a great deal of adverse criticism has been made regarding its existence, but no warden ever permits a man to break stone when other employment can be found for him. Nothing ever written regarding the "stone pile" was to my mind sufficiently severe and I never look at the men at this work that I do not wish I could place those responsible for the necessity of its existence in their places. It is a matter of choice between idleness and stone piles—two evils—the lesser of the two being the stone pile.

The inmates of the penitentiaries are the wards of the Dominion Government, and there is no valid reason why goods required for State use, and State use only, should not be made, in so far as is possible, in the penitentiaries. The Government spends many thousands of dollars yearly for furniture, furnishing and equipment of various kinds, a small portion of which could be made in the penitentiaries. The revenue derived from this source would enable the institutions to pay each inmate on his discharge, or to his family while he is in prison, a small wage, which would materially assist the stricken family in keeping the wolf from the door while the wage-earner is incarcerated; or, in case the inmate had no family responsibilities, would furnish him with sufficient funds on discharge to assist him in making a fresh start in life.

With such employment and pay for their labour, a powerful incentive would be added to the industry and good conduct of the inmates, while the wardens of the different penitentiaries would be relieved of the great trouble and anxiety now experienced by the lack of such blessings.

In the past the prevailing idea has been that penitentiaries were a place of punishment only; that it was of small moment whether men were kept in idleness, made break stone, or given clean, interesting, useful work to do, so long as society was protected from them. During the twenty years just passed, a tremendous change has swept over most civilized countries in regard to prison management, and while Canada has been well ahead of others in most matters, the two great essentials (work and segregation) have been denied us.

Penitentiaries are now fast being regarded as industries—factories to manufacture Government material and to remake men. From depraved, neglected, diseased and crooked material received, their object is to turn out, as their product, good citizens, reformed and fully qualified to take their places in the world of work.

Penitentiaries, therefore, are no longer regarded only as places of punishment, confinement, idleness, or as commercial non-essentials. When properly conducted they may not only be made a success from a financial standpoint, but can be made one of the most desirable business enterprises possible for a Government to engage in.

Records disclose the fact that the average cost to the Government of securing a conviction for commission of crime is about $1,200. To this must be added the average cost of maintaining an inmate in the penitentiaries, which, together with discharge expenses and return railway fares, amounts to about $1,600, making the total average cost to the State about $2,800. To this must be added the value of loss or damage resulting from the commission of the crime for which the inmate was sentenced, together with the value of support and assistance given the unfortunate wives, mothers, and children, who, in many cases, have to be assisted while the wage-earner of the family is incarcerated; as well as the economic loss to the State of the value of his labour.

If a like amount were spent in an endeavour to help the fallen do well, as it costs to convict and imprison them, very few indeed would be sent to prison.

If, therefore, properly managed penitentiaries can change a man's character so that he will never again commit crime, they will have accomplished a very great financial saving. Far greater, however, than this will be the changing of a life of sin, sorrow, failure, and distress, to one of happiness, success, and usefulness. Such reformation will add not only to the material wealth, but will add largely to the moral greatness of our country. All this may be accomplished in our penitentiaries if they be given sufficient Government work and segregation. No greater incentive could be desired than the moral reformation and material wealth possible if this be done.

If sufficient work be furnished by the Government, the penitentiaries can easily be made self-sustaining and wages paid to the inmates for their labour as well.

With sufficient Government work to keep the inmates continually employed, the burden of supporting the penitentiaries would be removed and wages could be paid to inmates as well, thus enabling those with dependents to send money thus earned to needy ones at home, while the head or wage-earner of the family is incarcerated.

There is no valid reason why good citizens, who obey the law, should be taxed to support lawbreakers in a penitentiary who can and should be made support themselves and their dependents.

An estimate of the cost of crime to the United States has been worked out by the Institute of Economics at Washington. The bill is very high. Last year it reached five billion dollars. It is calculated that the cost per capita amounts to $30 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Why not give the inmates of Canadian penitentiaries a chance to pay their own bills? It may easily be done.

Penitentiaries should be places wherein an inmate may be confined to protect society from him, and in order that he may learn to appreciate the value of his liberty; where he may be trained to become a useful citizen. A penitentiary has no right to exist if inmates discharged from same are not turned out better citizens than when they entered. Inmates might be made a profitable asset, rather than a dangerous liability. This may be done through their being given a fair education, taught a trade, paid a fair wage for labour well performed, thus enabling them to assist in supporting those dependent upon them; where they should be well grounded in the matter of their responsibility as citizens.

These are two of the great essentials in connection with penitentiary management. No success may be looked for where idleness and inefficiency prevail. There may be a chance for reform where work is provided, but idleness breeds perpetual despair, discontent, and engenders viciousness, which cannot be cured by punishment or solitude. Without sufficient and proper work, much of what may be learned in a penitentiary is not that which will make for efficiency or morality, outside.

President Coolidge, in his first message to Congress, said that "Prisoners should be employed in such forms of production as can be used by the Government, though not sold to the public in competition with private businesses."

From the second edition of the magazine "Prison Labour Competition vs. Free Industries" the following is quoted:—

Prison production should be consumed by the Government as a small part of their yearly supply purchases.

In April, 1924, at Salt Lake City, Utah, a conference of Inter-mountain States' officials was held, and a resolution passed as follows:—

That the States' Use System was the fairest method of employment, alike to the tax-payers, to capital, to free labour, and to the prisoners themselves.

The New York State law in this connection is an excellent example of inmate labour legislation. Anything required by the State that can be made in the prisons must be made therein.

The American Federation of Labour, which met at Washington, D.C., on February 13, 1924, while discussing prison labour, declared as follows:—

We declare for the principles of State use and production for the State.

The penitentiaries have excellent shops, large and well lighted and ventilated, the necessary machinery, the power to operate same, the workmen and qualified instructors in every department; in fact, a complete organization, sufficient to make the penitentiaries self-sustaining, if given the Government work they are capable of doing.

Why not permit the inmates of Canadian penitentiaries to support themselves, and relieve the tax-payer to that extent?

For years past, there has been an increasing sense of social independence; there is a much more definitely realized desire to improve the condition of the unfortunates sent to prison.

New and greatly improved conditions now exist in Canadian penitentiaries, entirely brought about by those who administer them. Many of the old and undesirable buildings and methods have been abandoned, as, whatever might have been said of the old penitentiaries, one thing is certain, little good could be said of the methods, and the buildings were certainly not designed to reform those committed to them.

It is not the object or desire, however, of those in charge of the administration of these institutions to make them other than what their name implies—penitentiaries—where wrongdoers, sentenced to confinement therein at hard labour, while well treated, will not be permitted to spend their time in idleness and comfort.

The successful handling of men in penitentiary demands that those in charge of the administration of the institutions must recognize that the inmates are their fellow men and, like themselves, human.

That, though a few of the inmates may be subnormal mentally, the great majority of them are quite the reverse, and, in many cases, possess a good education; are clever and crafty to a degree.

That, though rough and cruel treatment of inmates may prevail for a time, it fails miserably in the end and never serves to elevate or redeem an inmate.

That there is no one who despises the sloppy, sentimental gush by which some imagine penitentiaries should be governed more than the inmates themselves, and that such methods invariably fail, often disastrously so.

That no institution may be governed successfully, for long, by methods of bribery, such as the granting of special favours or privileges, or by too lenient methods of discipline.

That government by the inmates themselves, though repeatedly tried in some countries, has never been and never will be a success. They never view matters from the administrator's standpoint.

That the only successful method of government in a penitentiary is by a policy of strict discipline, justly and humanely enforced, where the inmates are taught respect for law and order (it was the lack of such respect that caused their downfall); where they are given a square deal, educated, taught a trade, at which they may honestly earn a living on discharge; where they would be paid a small wage for labour well done.

The employment of officers of high moral standard, possessed of a fair education, who, by their bearing and daily conduct, demonstrate to the inmates what a real, true man should be, would be one of the greatest boons possible. One or two dishonest and disreputable officers can ruin the discipline and break up the esprit de corps of an institution.

The establishment of a school of instruction for officers, before permitting them to assume any important duty in a penitentiary, would, in a great measure, accomplish what is recommended above, as the undesirable officers would be eliminated. South Africa has such a school and same was opened with 100 recruits in attendance. At the end of the first three months, 38 of them had been discharged as being considered not fit to handle or control their fellow men. This, too, in a country where only a moderate percentage of the population of the institutions is white.

The greatest drawback to our Canadian penitentiaries in past years, before the Civil Service Commission made appointments, was by the appointment of wardens and other administrative officers, without any experience or training in penitentiaries or knowledge of the criminal and his methods; in fact, often without a requisite to fit them for the important and arduous duties they undertook. No one pretended they possessed any special fitness for the positions, or had any experience. All that was necessary was that they required the position and it suited those in power to appoint them. They sometimes were men of fair character and good intentions, but sad experience has proven that the most utter incompetence may, and in fact has, existed in administrative officers, who possessed both of these qualifications. Competent officers, with years of training in the work, who should have been promoted were usually passed over and an outsider appointed.

For years penitentiary officers have recommended and urged that the administration of penitentiaries be placed in charge of those held responsible for same. Should this be done a wonderful advancement in our penitentiary systems would result. Esprit de corps, efficiency, harmony and progress, in every way would then be possible.

Vacancies when at all possible should be filled by promotion. Young men of character and education might then be induced to enter the service, knowing that efficiency and good service would, in due time, be recognized.

Protests are made in certain quarters that penitentiaries are too comfortable, and that some criminals desire to go there. There need be no fear of this, however. A cage is a cage, no matter how attractive it may be made, and there are few who ever seek imprisonment. Some prisoners, after conviction, ask to be sent to penitentiaries instead of to other institutions. This may not be considered as a testimony to the desirability of the penitentiaries, but rather as a reflection on the other places.

Mr. C. S. Elsdon, Deputy Warden of Dorchester Penitentiary, who for thirty years and three months had been an honourable and reliable officer, and during that time rendered meritorious service, was retired on account of ill health.

Mr. Charles Baylie, Engineer of Dorchester Penitentiary, who was appointed to the penitentiary service on October 1, 1890, and who has been recognized as an honest and capable officer, and whose services the department has freely used in all of the penitentiaries to assist in engineering, lighting and telephone construction problems, was retired on account of ill health.

Three chaplains were retired since last report, they having resigned on account of having reached the age limit, viz., Reverend Father M. McDonald, Roman Catholic Chaplain of Kingston; the Venerable Archdeacon O. G. Dobbs, Protestant Chaplain at Kingston; and the Reverend A. Vert, Protestant Chaplain at British Columbia.

Major George T. Goad, who for five years has served on the discipline and administrative staffs of the Dorchester institution, and who acted as warden since August 18, 1923, has been promoted to the position of warden in that institution.

Mr. E. H. Cummings, Chief Keeper, who has been a penitentiary officer since 1907, was promoted to the position of deputy warden at Dorchester.

The wonderful assistance rendered by the officers of the Salvation Army is worthy of the highest praise; not only have they been at all times of great service and comfort to the inmates and their dependents, often left penniless at home, but have rendered invaluable aid to the wardens of the institutions. The superintendent has also much to be grateful to the Army for. They work constantly for all—giving help regardless of creed, colour or nationality.

If proper selection and inspection of immigrants before permitting them to come to Canada were made, it would materially reduce the numbers committed to penitentiary, and I am creditably informed would largely reduce the numbers now confined in mental disease hospitals.

The Canadian penitentiary conventions, held in Vancouver in September, 1924, and in Winnipeg in 1925, were considered by all who attended as great successes. The following subjects were dealt with, after discussion at great length in each case:—

- ✓ Revision of Penitentiary Act.
- ✓ Revision of Penitentiary Regulations.
- ✓ Visits of inspection by superintendent, inspectors and auditor.
- The reception of inmates.

The returned soldier preference.
Excellent work of the Salvation Army.

Those attending the convention at Vancouver were honoured by a visit from the then Solicitor-General, the Hon. E. J. McMurray, who spent the greater portion of one forenoon listening to the discussion on parole. He expressed himself as well pleased with what he had heard.

While the convention was in session, a telegram was received by the superintendent, announcing the promotion of Mr. E. L. Newcombe, Deputy Minister of Justice, to the Supreme Court of Canada. Resolution was passed unanimously that the following telegram be sent to Mr. Newcombe, who for so many years had occupied so efficiently the position of Deputy Minister of Justice:—

Officers of Penitentiary Branch and wardens of penitentiaries assembled in convention offer congratulations on your promotion. All present voice their regrets at your leaving the Justice Department.

RECOMMENDATIONS

1. The providing of institutions for the segregation and classification of all inmates is again strongly recommended.
2. The reopening of the Criminal Mental Disease Hospital.
3. The segregation of habitual criminals.
4. The furnishing of more work for the inmates by the Government.
5. Payment of wages to well-behaved inmates for work well performed.
6. The securing of situations for inmates prior to discharge.
7. The training of officers before being permitted to take charge of inmates.
8. The empowering of those in charge of penitentiary administration with authority to administer and discipline on similar basis to that of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.
9. Change in the method of purchasing supplies. This is essential in order to attain success in the manufacture of goods in the penitentiaries.

Respectfully submitted,

W. S. HUGHES,
Superintendent.

DOMINION PAROLE OFFICER'S REPORT, 1925

R. R. Creighton, Dominion Parole Officer, reports:—

The following tabulated statement shows that while the percentage of those who have had their paroles either revoked or forfeited is greater than last year the result of the year's operation is still very satisfactory, as is evidenced by the fact that out of the total number to whom executive clemency has been extended 91.39 per cent have lived up to the conditions imposed upon them:—

The number of inmates released from the penitentiaries during the year was 366 and from the various provincial institutions 458, making a total of 824. As compared with the preceding year there is a falling-off of releases from the penitentiaries of 199 and from other institutions, 64. The total number of paroles revoked or forfeited for various reasons was 71 as compared with 51 a year ago. The Royal Canadian Mounted Police are charged with the duty of supervising and receiving reports of paroled inmates and the following tabulated statement as prepared by them shows the movement of the system from 1899 to March 31, 1925:—

|  |        |        |

| Released on parole from penitentiaries.....                | 8,245  |        |

| Licenses revoked .....                                     | 594    |        |
| Licenses forfeited .....                                   | 436    |        |
| Sentences completed on parole .....                        | 15,973 |        |
| Sentences not yet completed .....                          | 683    |        |
|  |        | 17,686 |

From this statement it will be noted that out of 17,686 paroled 1,030, or 5.8 per cent, have not lived up to the conditions under which they were liberated and were consequently returned to custody. At the present time there are 683 reporting. The fact that the average loss covering a period of 26 years has been only 5.8 per cent is the best argument that can be deduced that the parole act has proved its justification.

During the year this office reported on 390 cases and although, owing to the amount of unemployment prevalent during the winter months, in almost every instance we were able to secure work for those liberated. This, in conjunction with the varied information secured regarding antecedents and general character prior to incarceration of the applicants, necessitated an extensive correspondence.

The Salvation Army have again proved themselves to be of very great assistance and by their willing and practical co-operation have enabled us to secure employment and make provision for men which otherwise we would have been unable to do. I desire again to express my deep appreciation for the assistance given us. The police authorities also have continued to be very willing to furnish any information coming within their knowledge that has been requested of them.

During the year the usual visits to the various penitentiaries were paid and those inmates who expressed a desire to interview me had the opportunity of doing so. Notes were kept of the salient points they wished to emphasize in connection with their cases. These are of much value in preparing reports for the department. Although it is impossible, owing to the limited time at my disposal, to make a thorough study of the men, yet a few moments of frank and unreserved conversation frequently enable one to form a fairly correct opinion as to their attitude towards society and the probability of their leading law-abiding lives when liberated. It is also a satisfaction to the inmate to know that he has had an opportunity of presenting his case from his own point of view to an officer of the department sent specially for that purpose. This makes for greater peace of mind and is an aid to good discipline, particularly when it is impressed upon him that unless he helps himself by uniform good conduct in the institution he cannot expect that others will be able to do much for him.

I am still strongly of the opinion expressed in my report of last year that one of the crying necessities in connection with our penal system is an institution where segregation can be effectively put into execution. The reasons for this cannot help impressing themselves upon any person who has much to do with the actual work of the penitentiaries.

In conclusion, I desire again to express my sincere thanks to the wardens and other officers of the penitentiaries for their assistance and kindly co-operation with me in my work by correspondence and when visiting their institutions.

DOMINION PAROLE OFFICER'S REPORT, 1926

R. R. Creighton, Dominion Parole Officer, reports:—

I submit herewith a tabulated statement giving the usual information with reference to the operation of the parole system as regards the number of inmates liberated, the number whose licenses were revoked for failure in some way to live up to the conditions imposed and those who, for some indictable offence committed subsequent to parole, had them forfeited.

A reference to the foregoing statement shows that during the year there were released on parole from the various penitentiaries 302 inmates. This is a reduction of 64 as compared with the previous year. From the various jails, reformatories and other provincial institutions 406 paroles were granted—a reduction of 52 as compared with the previous twelve months. The total number of paroles granted during the year was 708. The total number of paroles revoked and forfeited during the same period was 57, or 8.05 per cent. A comparison with the previous year shows a reduction of 14.

It is hardly necessary to state that the apparent discrepancy in the revocations and forfeitures in favour of the jails, etc., as compared with the penitentiaries is explained by the fact that those released from the former institutions have a much shorter probationary term to serve.

The Royal Canadian Mounted Police continue to supervise the receiving of reports of paroled inmates and the following tabulated statement as prepared by them shows the movement of the system from 1899 to March 31, 1926:—

|  |        |        |
|--|--------|--------|
| Released on parole from penitentiaries .....               | 8,550  |        |
| Released on parole from prisons, jails and reformatories.. | 9,853  |        |
|  |        | 18,403 |
| Licenses revoked .....                                     | 621    |        |
| Licenses forfeited .....                                   | 466    |        |
| Sentences completed on parole .....                        | 16,701 |        |
| Sentences not yet completed .....                          | 615    |        |
|  |        | 18,403 |

A reference to this statement shows the total number released on parole between the periods mentioned to be 18,403. Of this number 1,087 have not lived up to the conditions imposed while 16,701 have satisfied them and have completed their ticket-of-leave. On March 31 last there were 615 still reporting.

It is gratifying to note that of the total number granted conditional freedom only 5.9 per cent have had for various reasons to be returned to close confinement. This is the best proof that the parole system is justifying its existence.

The Salvation Army continue, as in the past, to cheerfully do what is in their power to assist us in our work. It is seldom we appeal to them in vain on behalf of some unfortunate who is destitute of friends or any person to take a practical interest in his welfare, and I desire once more to express my deep appreciation for their co-operation. The police authorities also continue willingly to furnish us with any information they may have regarding the previous characters of men whose cases may be under consideration.

All the penitentiaries were visited during the year and any inmates who desired to interview me were given the opportunity. Notes were kept of the points they wished to emphasize and these are of much assistance when their cases are under review. The few moments of frank and unrestrained conversation with the men very often enable one to form a fairly accurate estimate of their attitude towards society and the probability, or otherwise, of their living law-abiding lives in the future. The effect of these visits on the discipline of the institution is, in my opinion, good. I impress on the inmate that one of the essential factors in securing parole is that the applicant shall have exemplary conduct in the institution and that when he makes application, as a matter of course, a copy of his "defaulter's sheet" accompanies it. It is also a satisfaction to the inmate to feel that he has been given the opportunity to make a statement of his case to some person from the department.

In conclusion I desire again to express my sincere thanks to the wardens and other officers of the various institutions for their assistance and kindly co-operation both by correspondence and when visiting the institutions.

APPENDIX B—WARDENS' REPORTS

KINGSTON

It will be seen, therefore, that there has been a decrease of 26 in the male population and an increase of 7 in the female population; making a net decrease of 19. This decrease is accounted for by the fact that eighty inmates were transferred to Stony Mountain penitentiary three days before the closing of the fiscal year.

The admissions during the year were:—

| Net decrease .....                                    |      |        | 19    |

There are at present eleven insane inmates confined in the Psychiatric Ward of the Ontario Reformatory, Guelph, nine of whom were sentenced to life imprisonment. During the past year two insane inmates regained their mental equilibrium and were returned to this institution, also an inmate who had been in the Psychiatric Ward for treatment and observation.

Inmate Gordon Simpson, H-751, was returned here, after having been recaptured in New York, on December 25, 1925. This only leaves one to be accounted for, of the quintette who escaped from this institution on September 10, 1923.

Of the 702 inmates incarcerated, 562 are under the age of 40 years and 90 between 40 and 50 years.

The water supply is examined weekly at Queen's laboratory; no impurities have been reported.

The hospital staff has maintained its high standard of efficiency during the year.

I regret having to report the death of two male inmates and one female inmate. On June 20, 1925, inmate Mike Miller, K-34, died from pulmonary tuberculosis, general toxemia. On August 3, 1925, inmate Frederick Larocque, K-683, died from T.B. cystitis. On February 5, 1926, female inmate Koska Kaminski, K-832, committed suicide by hanging. An inquest was held, and after hearing the evidence of all concerned the jury's finding was that the woman was temporarily insane and no blame, in any way, was attached to the officers.

I am pleased to be able to report that there were no escapes, or attempted escapes, during the year just closed. This is a splendid record, in view of the fact that during the summer of 1925 we had as many as 250 men working outside the walls.

All construction work is progressing favourably. Good progress was made in the reconstruction of the north wing of the shop building, formerly occupied by the boiler house and old binder twine plant. It is expected this will be occupied in the near future.

The concrete foundation work of the new female prison has been completed. This was rather a tedious job, in view of the fact that the foundation had to be carried to the rock, which varied greatly. Some portions of the building had to be excavated to a depth of 15 to 18 feet. The service duct, leading from this building to the steam plant within the walls, is progressing. Quite a large portion of the same has been built. Progress with this work is slow, owing to the fact that we have to excavate through various thicknesses of rock, ranging from 5 to 15 feet.

The old west gate has been entirely removed, also the building attached thereto, and the boundary wall continued where it stood. The removal of this building necessitated the erecting of a watch tower on top of the wall, and in the building of the watch tower much work was entailed, but it is now completed and is a beautiful piece of masonry, which adds greatly to the appearance of the enclosure.

In the embellishment of the grounds within the boundary walls, splendid progress has been made by building concrete curbing on either side of the roadways, and putting in the intervening space, flower beds and grass. This very materially improves the appearance of the enclosure.

In the refencing of all the penitentiary property good progress has been made. Practically all of the concrete corner posts and gate posts have been built, and during the present year it is hoped to complete a large portion of this work, as cement posts for the intervening space between corner and gate posts were made during the winter.

Inmates in blacksmith and machine shop have been very well employed during the year. This department has just completed a system of steel cells 5 feet by 7 feet by 7 feet for the R.C.M.P. Barracks at Jasper Park, Alberta.

Those in carpenter shop have been very busy during the year in building forms for the foundation of the new female prison, and all kinds of other institutional work.

Those in the tin department have been well and profitably employed during the year. As well as taking care of all repairs and institutional work, they made 4,500 ballot boxes for the Chief Electoral Officer, and did other work for different Government departments.

The paint department has been kept very busy during the year with institutional work and in the making of 7,400 signs for the Interior Department.

The printing department has had a very busy year in the making of 17,000 safety envelopes for the Parks Branch, and the printing of stationery requirements for this institution and the other five penitentiaries.

Thirty inmates have been employed in the quarry during the year getting out stone for the new female prison and for the repairing of the boundary walls and other requirements of the penitentiary.

The engineer's department has operated satisfactorily throughout the year by keeping the machinery and lighting equipment in good running order, and installing new, and replacing worn out, equipment; also remodelling the plumbing of the north wing where concealed flushometers have been installed in place of the old flush boxes which were very unsatisfactory. This department also completed the new sewage disposal plant, which is now operating in a very satisfactory manner. The old plant has been dismantled and the new plant adds materially to the sanitation of the institution, and discharges only a pure effluent into the river.

The school-master and librarian has well looked after the education of the inmates by supplying good and wholesome reading, as well as teaching the illiterates to read and write, and good progress was also made during the year with higher branches of education. Eight inmates passed their High School Entrance examinations and three were successful in their partial matriculation examinations.

In the mail bag department 100 inmates have been employed during the year. This department has been very busy in repairing 166,000 bags, as well as manufacturing 75,000 new ones and in the reconstruction of 20,000 others. The revenue from this department for the year amounted to $55,438.29.

Those in the tailoring department have been well and profitably engaged during the year. The revenue received from this department for custom work amounted to $2,033.80 and the usual amount of institutional work was done. There has been an average of 39 men employed daily in this department.

The shoe department has been very busy with institutional work, and a revenue of $4,358.85 has been received from work done for Government departments and custom work for the officers. There has been an average of 41 men employed daily in this department.

From the manufacture of brooms, a revenue of $955.80 has been received. During the year this department made 300 brooms for the Public Works Department, as well as supplying all brooms required for our own use and other penitentiaries.

Those in the change room, laundry and barber shop have been well and profitably engaged on institutional work. This is one of the busiest departments of the institution, where there is an average of 27 men employed daily.

The female department has maintained its high standard of efficiency throughout the year, and great credit is due the matron and her assistants for the tactful manner in which they have handled the 34 inmates incarcerated therein. A good deal of institutional work is accomplished by the female inmates, in the making of shirts for the male department, bandages for the hospital, and laundry work for the hospital and kitchen.

The value of the products from the farm for the year was $15,569.38. This department supplies all the pork required for the steward's department and all vegetables, but is unable, owing to the nature of the soil, to supply the full quantity of potatoes. There were 120 acres under cultivation, besides 100 acres of hay land. The farm employs 30 inmates daily during the year.

Those in the mason department were very busy during the year in the construction of the foundation of the new female prison; the building of the service duct; in taking down the old west gate, and rebuilding wall and masonry for the watch tower house. This department also made good progress in the pointing of the boundary walls; all of the pointing on the inside of same was completed. A large amount of work was also done in the reconstruction of the old boiler house, as well as taking care of institutional repairs.

The stone-cutting department has had a very busy year in cutting stone for the repairing of the walls and other institutional work, and has made satisfactory progress in cutting the stone for the new female prison. There are 45 inmates employed daily in this shop.

In conclusion, I wish to tender to all officers on the staff my profound thanks for their faithful and efficient service during the year. I also desire to express my very highest appreciation to the superintendent and members of the Penitentiary Branch for their assistance and courtesy during the year, cheerfully given at all times.

I am enclosing, herewith, the following statistical reports for the fiscal year 1925-26:—

Remaining on register at midnight, March 31, 1926..... 653

Of these, 639 were in custody, 13 in asylums at the expense of the institution, and 1 out on temporary parole.

Of the five deaths, one was caused by fracture of the skull, due to an accident, the coroner's jury returning a verdict of accidental death, with no blame attaching to anyone; one was that of an inmate over 70 years of age, submitting to his third incarceration in this penitentiary, having been once in Kingston and several times in jail. He was admitted to hospital on arrival, and although everything possible was done for him he succumbed after 92 days. One death was due to pulmonary consumption and the two others from organic diseases. The hospital is kept scrupulously clean.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, considerable work was accomplished. The continued wet weather was the worst for many years.

Over sixteen hundred feet of reinforced concrete duct was built, almost the whole through solid rock, the worst portion being across the main village street, at the junction of Penitentiary street with Lévesque boulevard. Work was much hampered on account of the continual rain flooding the excavations. Pipes and wires were placed in position, and all Government buildings as far as and including the pump house were heated by steam the whole winter.

Concrete pipe duct from the western end of main duct was laid for a distance of 290 feet to serve the piggery, and meter chamber was constructed at the corner of the Wilson property.

Boilers were rewalled and insulated, and steam pipes were covered with magnesia covering in almost their entire system, and this has resulted in an economy of fuel.

New panel has been installed on switchboard and wiring reorganized, with new armoured cable laid from power house to pumping station.

The water supply plant has been completely overhauled. New centrifugal pump of 75 horse-power has been installed, and a new sulphate of alumina plant was almost completed. A new chlorinating apparatus has been put into operation, and filter tanks have been emptied, cleansed and rearranged.

New crib for the protection of new intake pipe has been constructed and sunk, but the completion of the intake must remain till low water in the summer owing to an unsuccessful attempt at sinking it through the ice.

Four hundred feet of excavation was done on Lévesque boulevard in the upper part of the village for an extension to the village pipe line.

About one thousand feet of excavation was done within the yard and new 15-inch vitrified sewage pipe laid with three manholes, to replace old 9-inch pipe which was no longer sufficient for requirements.

Considerable pointing, which was badly needed, was done, in some cases for the first time since buildings were erected. The walls, which formed a jog at the front entrance, were torn down, and walls on each side of new administration building are now flush, walls being now clear of all erections within.

These works, with the usual maintenance, composed the greater part of the work of the season. This institution, on account of its age, requires continual attention for proper maintenance.

The results of the operations on the farm have not been so satisfactory as usual.

Discipline.—Being instructed to take charge of the penitentiary on March 27, 1925, I experienced considerable difficulty in establishing discipline such as formerly prevailed in this institution.

The only thing to be done was to endeavour, as far as possible, quietly and gently, to change the attitude of the inmates, and reform their minds. In a word, to discipline them, and make them understand that by their own efforts in the way of conduct and industry only could any privileges be accorded them.

I have no hesitation in saying that the discipline which prevails in the institution now is better than it has been for years.

The number of former inmates returning to this institution is cause for considerable thought.

DORCHESTER

G. T. Goad, Warden, reports:—

I beg to submit herewith my annual report for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1926, together with the following reports:—

1. Chief Trade Instructor.
2. Engineer.
3. Farm Instructor.
4. Librarian and School teacher.

5. Protestant Chaplain.
6. Roman Catholic Chaplain.
7. Statistical.
8. Surgeon.

At the close of the prison, March 31, 1926, the population of this institution was 292, an increase over the previous year of 10. We received during the year 135 prisoners and released as follows:—

|  |            |

Work done in the various departments during the year is as follows:—

Blacksmith.—Corridor barriers were made and erected on third landing of hospital; also locking device installed for each cell. Barriers were also made for doors on second and third floors. General repair work was done in connection with the different departments, such as repairs to wagons, carts, etc., horseshoeing, making and repairing drills for stonecutters; also general repairs in the prison and shops.

Carpenter.—Deputy warden's new residence was completed, inside and out, including painting; this necessitated considerable time and labour, particularly as regards the inside woodwork finishing which required very accurate cutting, fitting, etc. Work has progressed slowly on the warden's new residence on account of unavoidable delay in getting the plumbing installed, but all rooms are now completed for plastering.

The new house on "Hutchinson" site has been completed outside and we expect to have the interior finished and the house ready for occupation next month.

Forms were made for the concrete ducts at new houses.

Considerable repairs and additions were made to cattle barns, horsestalls and marsh barns.

Alterations were made to root cellar in connection with ventilation, and as a result our garden crops have not deteriorated as was the case in previous years.

Workshop roofs were re-covered with asbestos roofing cement, and all outside woodwork on the shops was painted.

Officers' cottages have been kept in repair and all necessary repairs have been made to the buildings generally.

Considerable manufacturing has been done in this department for the new houses, i.e., mantelpieces, doors, frames, windows, sashes, door-frames, etc., and all interior finish. Five dump carts, four sloven wagons, two sleighs and four service wagons were also made. A large number of posts were turned for farm fencing, and necessary repairs to farm wagons, etc., were made.

In the upholstering department we made prison mattresses, pillows, etc.; also repairs to car tops and seats and upholstered furniture.

Chapel (R.C.).—Chaplain reports that behaviour of the inmates has given him great satisfaction, and that they have been very attentive to religious instructions. Fifty-five Roman Catholic inmates were released on expiration of sentence, parole, etc., during the year.

Chapel (Protestant).—Church services have been held regularly at the appointed time by the chaplain. Salvation Army officers assisted in the services the last Sunday of each month and their visits were much appreciated.

Bible class was held each Sunday, and the Sacraments were administered at regular intervals.

Discipline during the hour of service has been excellent.

Engineering.—Three condemned steam boilers were removed from power plant, and new ones installed. Air compressor and receiver were erected in engine-room, which are proving very useful in enabling the mason department to operate air drills in the cutting out and drilling of stonework, etc., in the remodelling of the east wing. New hot well tank was installed.

The old system of piping, wiring, etc., throughout the piggery, established many years ago, has been on account of deterioration removed and an entirely new system established.

Six hundred feet of 6-inch watermain was laid from Officers' Row to Hutchinson house.

Sewage filter beds were cleaned and regravelled, and 600 feet of 12-inch concrete pipe was laid to carry effluent away.

Our fire-fighting equipment is now in good shape. A brigade has been properly organized, with written instructions regarding duties given to officers; fire-drill has been carried out. Three-inch galvanized watermains, with stand-pipe attachments, and 1,000 feet of canvas hose, have been installed in practically all our workshops. Fire-hose box and equipment were also installed at the piggery.

Farm.—Taken altogether, our crops, with the exception of potatoes, were above the average. We had a very heavy crop of grain in the straw that lodged badly, making harvesting difficult. Hay on the marshes was light, but very good on the upland.

Our pure-bred shorthorns now number fifty-seven head, and we have sold several young pure-bred bulls at fairly good prices.

There was a great demand for our young Yorkshire swine, and if this demand continues it will be necessary to provide increased housing accommodation.

Our horses are in excellent condition, and during the year when exhibited at fairs obtained quite a number of first prizes.

Farm fencing was carried on during the year and in a short time it is expected to have the entire reserve enclosed with a woven wire fence.

Hospital.—The general health of inmates has been good, though a series of "Grippe" cases prevailed through January and February. Four deaths occurred during the year, one of which took place in our hospital, the cause being pneumonia; one in the Insane Asylum, St. John, N.B., from gangrene; and two on temporary parole, the cause being tuberculosis.

There were no serious accidents during the year and but few surgical operations.

All necessary dental work, with the exception of a number of extractions (done in our hospital), has been carried out by Dr. E. P. Landry, who has been in attendance during the year.

Surgeon reports sanitary conditions of prison and workshops as good. The water supply has been tested frequently during the year.

Wasserman blood tests were made of inmates received during the year, with the following results: 7 positive, 126 negative.

Library.—One hundred and ninety-eight volumes were added to the library during the year, including a large number of educational and mechanical books. These are in constant demand, particularly the latter, and are very useful to the inmates following the different trades. Fiction books acquired were carefully selected by the Library Board.

Mason.—Mason gangs have been busy throughout the year in connection with the remodelling of the east wing and the remodelling of the old condemned cells. This work is well under way, and it is hoped in the near future to have the new kitchen and chapel, with bake-ovens, officers' mess, cooling-room, and root storing facilities completed. Mason work on deputy's residence and new tenement has also been completed.

Stone-cutters have been busy throughout the year cutting stone required for construction purposes.

School.—We had an average monthly attendance of 94.6. Fifty-eight of the inmates liberated during the year attended school during their incarceration, and all of these left with a certain amount of instruction, and could read and write.

Weekly test papers were issued to the advanced inmates and the progress made was very satisfactory. Progress has been slow with several illiterates of advanced years, but the schoolmaster is particularly attentive to these unfortunates and is endeavouring to teach them to read and write before they are released. About 90 per cent of those attending school do so willingly and seem to be trying diligently to acquire all the knowledge they can. The discipline has been excellent.

Shoe.—In this department during the year the making and repairing of officers' and inmates' shoes has been done; also the making of discharge shoes, harness, etc., and general repair work for the different shops, as well as custom work. We would like to obtain for this department some small Government contracts and feel we could give complete satisfaction in the discharge of same.

Steward's.—The food during the year was of good quality and well cooked, with a better variety of vegetables than the previous year. Am pleased to say no complaints were received from the inmates in this regard.

Tailor Shop.—A quantity of clothing for the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Halifax was made, which was reported as being very satisfactory. Owing to the Royal Canadian Mounted Police deciding to manufacture uniform clothing at their own tailor branch in Ottawa we will, to our regret, lose this work. Repairing of uniform and prison clothing, making of clothing for officers and inmates, and also sheets, pillowcases, etc., for prison use was accomplished. 12,954 mail bags were repaired in our bag repairing shop.

General Remarks.—I regret to report that we had a break in our six-inch watermain during the winter, which necessitated shutting off the town lights for a few days, but after installing a small gasoline pump at the ice pond (Turner's brook) and pumping direct to the boiler room, we were able to maintain our lighting service to the town and prison until the break in main was located and repaired. We were forced to close down the machinery in shops, and drinking water was obtained from the well in yard after it had been tested and passed O.K., by our surgeon. We experienced much difficulty in locating the break on account of the heavy snowfalls, which in many places were seven and eight feet deep. It appeared to be a very serious situation for us at the time, but the strenuous efforts put forward by the engineering department considerably relieved the situation. I am therefore of the opinion that another source of water supply should be secured in addition to the one in use at present, so that should one system fail then we would have the other to fall back on.

Moving picture entertainments and concerts were provided on each statutory holiday, and same have been greatly enjoyed. These tend to break the monotony for the inmates and many of the pictures are highly instructive. Our Christmas entertainment was a very excellent one and I have received many letters of appreciation from the inmates with promises to try and live better lives. These entertainments materially assist the discipline in the institution and with properly censored films are very helpful to the men.

I have found it a difficult task, in many instances, to secure employment for inmates on discharge, particularly when they are released on expiration of sentence, and I would therefore again strongly recommend that area parole officers be appointed, whose duty it would be to get in touch with employers of labour and seek out situations suitable for each inmate released from prison and then to follow these men up and render them every assistance possible until they become re-established in society. It is when they are discharged that they require a helping hand and a friend. A man's conduct may be much improved in prison, but he cannot very well maintain this reform if he is sent out into the world friendless and in many cases homeless. So far we have been successful in finding work for nearly all inmates released on parole, mainly due to the efforts of Mr. George H. Cochrane, Moncton, N.B., and of the Salvation Army throughout the Maritime Provinces, and I feel very grateful to them for the many acts of kindness done for our inmates. I do not know of any person more qualified for area parole officer than an experienced Salvation Army officer.

I am of the opinion that a mental disease hospital operated for the care and maintenance of the feeble-minded and criminally insane would be a decided asset to our prison system.

I wish to express my appreciation of the assistance and courteous treatment rendered me by the superintendent and his staff, and also of the good support given me by the officers of the institution.

MANITOBA

W. Meighen, Warden, reports:—

I have the honour to submit herewith my annual report of Manitoba penitentiary, for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1926, together with the following reports:—

1. Statistical Report.
2. Surgeon's Report.
3. Farm Report.
4. Chief Trade Instructor's Report.
5. Schoolteacher and Librarian's Reports.
6. Roman Catholic Chaplain's Report.
7. Protestant Chaplain's Report.

The total number of inmates in custody at the close of the prison on March 31, 1926, was 304, exactly 100 more than at the same date the year previous. This was largely due to the arrival at midday on March 31, 1926, of 80 inmates from Kingston penitentiary, who were transferred to this institution, and partly due to the fact of an unusually large number of receptions during the latter part of 1925. Altogether we received 176 inmates and discharged 76 during the fiscal year. Of the number remaining, 163 were of British nationality and 141 were foreigners. Three of these being insane are being maintained in asylums at our expense, 181 are serving terms of five years or more, 16 of this number serving life sentences. Of our remaining population, 32 could neither read nor write when received, four others could read only, and two others, write only. Some 153 inmates attended school for instruction in various subjects, 15 taking up special work in bookkeeping, while four secured from 80 per cent to 90 per cent at the June matriculation examinations. One has completed his matriculation course and is studying for first year arts work, with the assistance of Wesley College, Winnipeg. We have an excellent library for use by all the inmates, and a large percentage of them enjoy reading very much during their spare time in the cells.

Farm Operations.—Our farm operations during 1925 were more successful than for some years previous, there having been a good and favourable season for the raising of crops and so forth. We raised over 10,600 bushels of grain and over 80 tons of corn, and a good crop of roots and other vegetables. We tried raising a few acres of wheat for the first time in a great many years and it yielded exceptionally well. We had our wheat hauled to the nearest grist mill and it was ground into flour for our own use, and turning 100 bushels into whole wheat flour, in order to provide some brown bread of a high quality to the inmates, many of whom prefer the brown bread to the usual white bread, and they always have their choice. Our stock of horses, cattle, and pigs is of a good quality. We have now, I consider, the most modern and strongly built horse stable in Manitoba, and I hope as soon as possible we can erect a cattle barn and piggery equally good.

Re Construction Work.—We have erected a 65,000 gallon high water tank, and an underground concrete soft water tank of 100,000 gallons capacity, thus providing a water supply sufficient for our needs, including fire protection, and the using of rain water from off the buildings provides the best there is for washing purposes, and at the same time it will save the necessity of pumping many thousands of gallons.

A pump-house and fire equipment hall was erected at a convenient space, previously vacant, between the boiler room and the south end of the workshops.

An addition to the coal storage vault was made, thus providing sufficient room to inclose a full supply of coal for the year.

An implement shed over the root house and adjoining the horse stable was also erected.

The old stone-breaking shed was transformed into a large and up-to-date laundry and has been in use as such for some months.

The old laundry has been remodelled and converted into a large room for use as a stores supply room, and office for the store-keeper.

The making and placing of all barriers in the new east wing was completed and the wing put into use on March 31, 1926, when the large transfer of inmates arrived from Kingston.

The second story of the hospital, which had not been used for many many years, except the corridors which the school-teacher had to use as a school room, was removed during the winter, the roof being now supported by trusses, and we have now in use as a result an excellent large and bright school room, which also makes an excellent room in which to hold concerts, which we do occasionally.

The warden's residence was reshingled, and a new ornamental fence placed around the grounds, which is a beautiful piece of work and adds greatly to the appearance.

This, together with the very necessary work that has to be done at the various tenements occupied by officers, will give you a general idea of our operations for the year.

Our surgeon, chaplains and officers generally, performed their duties in a very satisfactory manner.

As the Wardens' Convention was held in Winnipeg last year, we were privileged to enjoy a visit from all the wardens, together with yourself and headquarters staff, for all of whom I have the kindest regards, knowing they are doing excellent work in their various spheres, but particularly I wish to express to you my full appreciation of your personal visit of inspection, as with your long experience and deep interest in your work, you inspire one to greater efforts in the advancement of the work we are all endeavouring to do.

I again thank you and your staff at Ottawa for the many courtesies and assistance received during the past year.

BRITISH COLUMBIA

H. W. Cooper, Warden, reports:—

I have the honour to tender the annual report of the British Columbia penitentiary for the year ended March 31, 1926.

The population continues to show a small growth, having increased by nine during the year. The average daily population was 253, against 229 during the preceding 12 months. It is noteworthy that during the twelve months ended March 31, 1916, the average daily population was 337.

There have been no escapes during the year, due mainly to the vigilance of the guards and instructors.

One death occurred during the twelve months.

The rebuilding of the penitentiary has shown material progress.

The remodelling of the north wing has been completed, with the exception of the plumbing, and this was due to causes not under the control of the penitentiary.

Of the new wall, approximately 560 feet was built during the year.

On the new kitchen and chapel, all concrete work has been completed up to and including the chapel floor. The structural steel framework of this building was erected entirely by prison labour, under the supervision of the chief trade instructor and the mason instructor.

The engineer's department has been separated from the blacksmith's shop.

A reinforced concrete garage has been erected in the grounds of the warden's residence, and the grading of the new driveway from the south entrance on Columbia street has been proceeded with.

Folding chairs of approved pattern have been made in the prison, and now replace the stools formerly in use in the cells.

Over 775 cords of wood were salvaged from the river.

The unsightly board fence along Columbia street has been demolished.

The progress of the work has been greatly facilitated by the transfer to the British Columbia penitentiary, from the Prince Albert penitentiary, of Chief Trade Instructor Allan, the energy and experience of this officer having proved of great value to the warden.

The sudden death of the Protestant Chaplain, the Rev. Wm. Robertson, on July 3 was greatly regretted. Mr. Robertson's firm faith in the gospel coupled with his mellowness of character, enabled him to speedily win his way into the hearts of the inmates. The Sunday morning Bible class commenced during Mr. Robertson's tenure of office, has been continued with success and beneficial results by his successor, the Rev. J. Gibson.

The mission conducted at the penitentiary from March 18 to 21, by the Rev. A. H. Sovereign and the Rev. Father Powell, both of Vancouver, led to a greater appreciation of spiritual values among a number of the inmates.

The work of the librarian and school-teacher has been a large factor in the work for better citizenship. At the annual examinations by the Provincial Board of Education, two High School Entrance Certificates were gained by inmates of the penitentiary. The purchase of over two hundred volumes has brought the library well up to date, this addition comprising fiction of the higher, healthy type, as well as classical works and others of educational value.

The revision of salaries which came into effect at the beginning of the twelve months was a great disappointment, and the effect upon the class of applicants for employment has already shown itself. The vital essential for penitentiary employment is character. A prison official must be able to withstand not only the grosser forms of bribery, but also the insinuating influence of flattery. The faculties of leadership and self control are important. To take over a gang of from twenty to thirty men of different nationalities and temperaments, keep them steadily at work, guard against escapes and violations of the prison rules, be prepared at any moment to endanger one's life or ready to grapple with a refractory prisoner, and yet bring these men back at the evening closing a little better for having been under one's supervision, demands high qualities not only of manhood but also of physique. While the commencing net salary of $85.50 a month, plus uniform and boots, may attract ordinary watchmen, a staff of guards of that type cannot maintain a clean, secure, penal institution. A lowered tone in the staff must inevitably result in a lack of efficiency and economy and an equally lowered standard among the inmates before and after release. These remarks apply particularly to the industrial guards or instructors. These men must not only be skilled tradesmen, but also be competent in every branch of their trade. For example, the blacksmith instructor is required to know not only general iron working and anvil work, but also farriery, sheet metal work, acetylene welding, machine shop practice, and be able to read blue prints. He is responsible for the accurate book-keeping of his shop, must act as guard and maintain discipline among the inmates, and above all have the faculty of imparting his knowledge and skill to inmates, many of whom have reached mature years without being able to learn any trade at all in civil life. Kipling's "Sergeant What's his name" who made "soldiers out of mud" had an easy task compared with a penitentiary instructor charged with the duty of making skilled tradesmen out of "floaters." Yet the net commencing salary for this position is $95 per month.

It is to be hoped that the commencing salary for any penitentiary position will soon be raised to a minimum of $100 per month, net, with a suitable larger rate for Instructors.

The percentage of young men in the institution has shown a slight decrease. Nevertheless, the need of facilities for segregation of "occasional criminals" from those of the hardened type is just as urgent to-day as when, years ago, those responsible for the administration of the Penitentiaries first pointed out this crying need.

During the year, further evidence has accumulated of the need for a more effective form of supervision than is afforded by the present parole system. Were this system to be amended and strengthened it would be possible to show a still larger percentage of inmates returned to ordinary life, fit and willing to be law-abiding citizens.

Appreciation is due to those organizations such as the Kiwanis and Gyros of Vancouver, Shelly's Bakery, and the private citizens who have afforded sympathetic help during the year. The good work of the Salvation Army has been continued, and many men released from the penitentiary have benefited by the never-failing help afforded by the Army.

SASKATCHEWAN

W. J. Macleod, Warden, reports:—

I beg to inclose all reports for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1926.

Construction Work.—Construction work on new wall was continued and we built 1,120 feet; we poured 320 feet of the concrete mat and wall to the height of seven feet, and this is ready for the brick work, which will be started as soon as the weather permits. We hope to finish the wall, gateway, and store this summer. A terrazo floor has been laid in the keepers' hall. The iron fence, which was made in our blacksmith shop, has been put up, inclosing the front entrance to the prison. This fence has greatly added to the security of the prison. During the winter, angle irons were put in cell gate jambs on "A" side of east wing and also in the isolation wing. Concrete gate posts and ornamental iron gates were made and put up at entrances to farm along the main road. A coal shed holding some 500 tons of coal was built at the siding.

Engineer's Department.—Heating system on "A" side of east wing has been completed. A steam table was put up in the officers' kitchen. The steam mangle which we received from the D.S.C.R. was installed in the laundry. All plumbing and steam-fitting as required was attended to. Conduit for electric wires in new wall was laid. Two large cast-iron electric light brackets were fastened, one on each side of gate, to new iron fence in front of prison. These lights enable the night keeper to see who is at the gate without going outside of entrance to prison. The usual number of temporary power lines were erected to supply electric current to cement mixer, hoist and wood-sawing machine. Copper roofs were placed on the southwest and southeast towers. Ventilators were made and placed on our sewage disposal plant and two were placed on our garage. The ventilation system was made and placed on "A" side in the east cell block. All repair work in this department, and also numerous tinsmithing jobs, were well looked after.

Farm Department.—We had 619 acres under crop; summer-fallowed 25 acres and broke 58 acres. Off of this we harvested 2,206 bushels of wheat, 3,110 bushels of barley, 14,406 bushels of oats, 200 loads straw, 200 loads tame hay, 135 loads wild hay, 30 tons green feed, 8,990 bushels potatoes, 716 bushels of carrots, 1,240 bushels of turnips, 537 bushels of beets, 86 bushels of onions, 312 bushels of mangolds, 18,000 pounds cabbage, 860 pounds cauliflower, 565 pounds corn, 1,140 pounds rhubarb, 465 pounds radish, 355 pounds peas, 920 pounds lettuce, 205 pounds beans, and 222 pounds cucumbers. We raised 130 young pigs. We hauled 1,414 yards of gravel during the winter months. During past years we usually made three or four trips a day to our gravel pits by crossing the river on the ice, but last winter, owing to having very little snow, we had to use wagons and could only make one trip each day, as we had to go around by the bridge in the city. We cut 226 cords of wood on the reserve; this has been sawed into cord-wood lengths, and will be ready to use this fall to burn bricks.

Garage.—This department has been very efficient. The trucks have been kept on the road at very little expense for repairs, and have done a tremendous amount of work in hauling gravel, unloading coal, cement, lumber, etc. With our great building program, I cannot see how we could possibly do without our fleet of trucks.

Blacksmiths.—The blacksmith shop was kept very busy making new iron fence which was placed in front of main entrance to prison, and making barriers for new store; also in looking after all necessary repairs.

Carpenter.—Made a number of portable pump carrier boxes and kitchen boxes for the Parks and Forestry Branches of the Interior Department. Various articles such as cell chairs, cell cupboards, etc., were made. Forms for concrete work were made and placed in position for work on new wall.

Shoemaker.—In the shoe shop, we made harness and repair parts for the Parks Branch. All other work in this shop was carried on as usual.

Tailor.—The tailor shop supplied all requirements in clothing, such as uniforms for officers and clothes for the inmates.

Brickyard.—Here, we made 425,000 bricks of good quality.

Hospital.—We had one death from paresis, brought on from syphilis. At present we have three tubercular cases (one hopeless) in hospital. Wasserman tests were taken of all new inmates on arrival.

Chapels.—The chaplains' reports are very satisfactory. Special services were held in each church, and the chaplains are very pleased with the results.

School.—The school-teacher continues to do excellent work. Five inmates wrote on the Grade VIII examinations. Four passed, two with honours. During the year, sixteen inmates who could not read or write started in the primary class; one of these is now in Grade IV, six in Grade II, and the rest are making fair progress. Our library is well patronized.

General.—I regret very much to have to report the death of Guard Stanley Herbert Blyth, who was accidentally killed on the evening of August 19, 1925. In the death of this officer we lost a bright and intelligent young man, who always performed the duties assigned him in a very efficient manner.

I wish to thank the officers of the staff who have supported me in the administration of this institution during the past year, and also the superintendent and his staff for the courteous treatment and assistance given me at all times.
