Economics of Policing

Shared Forward Agenda

- The economics of policing is about the efficiency and effectiveness of policing, and public safety more broadly.
- Canadian public are increasingly aware and engaged on issues related to policing.
  - Steady and significant growth in policing costs while reported crime is declining.
- Increasingly diverse and complex nature of police work.
  - Impact of factors such as mental health and addiction on police workload and emergence of significant new crimes (e.g., cyber, financial, terrorism).
- Governments and the police community are pursuing opportunities to enhance efficiency and effectiveness.
  - Engagement with citizens, police services and stakeholders on performance measures, priorities, role of police and the future of policing;
  - Taking actions to increase operational and structural efficiency and effectiveness;
  - Investing in proactive, integrated community safety approaches to get at the roots of crime.
- Momentum of change and innovation can benefit, in many areas, from a common strategy and actions.

All Federal, Provincial and Territorial (FPT) Ministers of Justice and Public Safety agreed to:

1. Convene a Summit on the Economics of Policing.

Completed: Summit held January 2013.

2. Share information across jurisdictions on policies and practices that are targeted at improvements in the efficiency and effectiveness of policing.

Launched and On-going: Index of Police Initiatives released August 2013.

3. Develop a Shared Forward Agenda or strategy for policing and public safety in Canada.

Strategy approved November 2013.

- The main principles behind the Shared Forward Agenda are to:
  - Cooperate collectively in those areas where it makes sense to do so, while respecting jurisdictional responsibilities.
  - Adopt a comprehensive and holistic approach to public safety.

- The goals of the Shared Forward Agenda are to:
  1. Increase the efficiency and effectiveness of policing in Canada;
  2. Encourage learning, innovation and the application of best practices;
  3. Contribute to improved public safety outcomes and social well-being.
